Irving Berlin Weds Ellin Mackay

New York, Jan. 5.—Irving Berlin, famous composer of jazz music, and his bride, who was Miss Ellin Mackay, daughter of Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph Company, were honeymooning today—but where, none of their friends could say. The couple, after a few hurried words to reporters, in which they said they were "so happy", dashed away in their automobile.

They have planned an extended European trip, it was learned, and have made arrangements to sail on the Leviathan next Saturday.

Reports were current this morning that they were en route to the Adirondacks, but most of their close friends believe they are right here in New York.

Society was pleasantly surprised, although somewhat stunned by the sudden marriage, while Broadway, which knows and admires Berlin, a poor boy who came up from the East side to fame and riches, smiled and applauded.

The bride's father had nothing to add to his brief comment that the marriage was "without my knowledge or approval."

The bride is a Roman Catholic and Berlin is a Jew. He is 37; she is 22.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Blake, wife of a noted surgeon, had been reported as desiring her daughter to follow the dictates of her heart in the romance, but today she declined to say whether she approved or disapproved.

Friends of Berlin denied that any suspension had been sought from the Catholic authorities at Rome for the wedding. It was reported last night that a request had been made of Pope Pius, endorsed by Cardinal Hayes of New York, for sanction of their marriage.

The couple were married yesterday afternoon in the Municipal building by Deputy City Clerk James J. McCormick in the presence of a few witnesses. The couple, both wealthy, rode to the Municipal building in the subway.

Miss Mackay is heiress to a fortune of $30,000,000. Berlin's individual fortune exceeds $1,000,000.

In marrying Berlin, Miss Mackay left the wrath of her wealthy father who for two years has fought with every means at his disposal to break up the match.

Ellin yesterday agreed over the telephone to marry her former opponent of modern jazz immediately. Witnesses were summoned hastily and the marriage consummated.

"We are married and we are very happy. That's all we care to say," Berlin told reporters.

Berlin, whose name originally was Isidore Baline, is the son of an immigrant rabbi, who certified sugar beets in an East Side butcher shop in the days when "Izzy" added papers. He became a waiter, "Nigger Mike," a rendezvous in the old Bowery, where he used to sing. His songs made a hit, and he was induced by friends to write lyrics. He did, and became internationally famous.

The bride is Clarence Mackay's second daughter. She is a product of the most exclusive girl's schools and is well known and popular in the most exclusive society circles.

ATTITUDE OF EASTMAN CAUSES SPECULATION.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Speculation was rife here today as to what attitude Joseph B. Eastman of Massachusetts, who has been elected chairman of the interstate commerce commission for the ensuing year, will assume in connection with the Van Sweringen billion dollar railroad merger.

Although Eastman is one of the youngest members of the commission, he has become known as its "dissenter." In many cases he has decided during the past year he took a stand in opposition to the majority. He is particularly opposed to the plan of railroad financing through favored banking houses.

He holds that security issues should be placed through competitive bidding.

Eastman was one of the commissioners responsible for putting down the fee to a large New York banking firm and a New York firm of lawyers in the reorganization plans of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad.

A decision in the Van Sweringen merger is expected within the next few weeks.

ONE WOMAN INJURED WHEN TRAIN DERAILS.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—One woman, colored, was injured and more than 200 passengers were shaken up when the locomotive and four cars of the Federal express, the crack Pennsylvania Railroad train between Washington and Boston, were derailed between Northeast and Beacon Hill, Maryland, last night, according to word reaching here today.

The accident was caused when the locomotive "split a wheel" as the express was switching from one track to another to pass a disabled freight train.

The express was due at West Philadelphia at 10:15 o'clock last night and did not arrive here until 5:20 a. m. today.

L. C. C. From Valuation.

Washington, Jan. 5.—For rate making purposes the Interstate Commerce Commission today placed a valuation of $20,775,500 on the property of the Boston Terminal Company.

Acquit Girl on Murder Charge

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 5.—Edith Ashley, Ridgewood unwed mother, was acquitted today by the jury on a charge of murdering her infant son by administering lysol a month ago at the Florence Crittenton Hotel here.

The case went to the jury at 5:20 yesterday afternoon and the verdict was reached at 1:26 this morning. The prosecution did not ask for the death penalty.

The girl is 23. It was charged that she swallowed some of the poison herself, after pouring a quantity down the throat of her sleeping child. Emergency treatment saved the mother's life.

The girl testified that a man named "Nightingale" was the father of her child. Police hold a warrant for him.

Denver Mecca Of Republicans

Denver, Jan. 5.—Denver is destined to become the political Mecca of the Republican party next summer when the campaign preliminary to the elections in November, 1926, gets under way and for the first time in history the scene of outlining the strategy for the "putting over" of many important political battles will be shifted from east to west.

That Denver will entertain scores of Republican leaders during the campaign was assured with the selection of Senator Lawrence C. Phipps of Colorado as chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, which will be responsible for the political fate of Republican candidates to wear the toga in the upper body of the congress.

Thirty-two United States senators are to be elected next fall. Twenty-four of these seats are now occupied by Republicans; one is a Republican vacancy and the remaining seven are held by Democrats.

The Democrats who come up for re-election are all from the so-called "Solid South," and it is expected that the few minority party will spend most of its efforts upon the twenty-five senatorships, now held by Republicans.

Speculators Here To Be Arrested

New York Central Railroad Will Proceed Against Owners of Fifty-Trip Family Tickets Who "Ren" Tickets—Three Convictions in Newburgh.

A vigorous campaign waged by the New York Central railroad against persons misusing the privileges of the fifty-trip family ticket has met with considerable success in various cities and villages along the Hudson river, three convictions having been recently secured by railroad detectives, working in conjunction with the law department of the road.

These three convictions were secured in the city of Newburgh and it is expected that within a short time numerous other arrests will be made in view of the fact that a number of so-called "ticket-rings" have been uncovered by operatives and sufficient evidence secured to warrant legal action.

It is now possible, it is claimed by the railroad, for almost any person to rent one of these tickets from the original purchaser within the commuting zone, thereby saving the difference between the regular single trip ticket and the reduced rate, plus a commission to the renter who, in many instances, does a good business in this commodity. The abuse has reached such proportions that active steps are being taken by the railroad to break up the trade.

For some months past male and female detectives in the employ of the New York Central have been renting the tickets from these so-called agents and gathering other evidence, which will now be used in prosecuting the law-breakers. The sale of the tickets is protected by law and the mis-use is considered a misdemeanor, punishable in police court by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or one year in jail.

The most recent arrest involved a woman school teacher in the Newburgh public school. She had rented a family ticket to a woman railroad detective who had taken it to New York, had a photograph copy made and returned it. When arrested the prisoner pleaded guilty before Judge Jacob Becker in the Newburgh city court and was released on a suspended sentence.

AMERICAN DIVORCE ACTIONS IN PARIS

Paris, Jan. 5.—A number of American divorce actions came to a climax in the Paris divorce courts today.

Thomas J. Prindiville was granted a divorce from his wife, Ethel Herck Prindiville, on his complaint that his wife had insulted and injured him. The Prindivilles were married in New York February 27, 1918.

Mrs. Helen Roger Corbell was granted a divorce from Mario Corbell. They were married in New York February 24, 1917.

Mrs. Dorothy Shree Goodall was granted a divorce from Fethallah Shree Goodall. They were married in Washington August 22, 1920.

Postal Receipts Make New Record

Washington, Jan. 5.—Reflecting the general prosperity of the country, the holiday business was the greatest in the history of the postal service, receipts from 50 selected cities totaling $38,655,752 during December, as compared with $34,148,978 in December, 1924, an increase of 13.30 per cent, postmaster general announced today.

Jacksonville, Fla., again led all the selected cities in percentage of increase, reporting a gain of 43.40 per cent.

Think Prisoner Is Robert Scott

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 5.—One of the most feverish manhunt of recent years was at an end today if identification of "John Redding" serving a robbery sentence in San Quentin prison in California and on the eve of being paroled, as Robert B. Scott, is proved correct.

For two years Scott has been assiduously sought on a charge of the murder of Joseph Mauer, clerk, during a hold up—the same charge that three times brought his brother Russell, to the edge of the gallows and eventually landed him in Chester asylum for the criminal insane at Menard, Ill., with hanging as his fate if he ever is found sane again.

During half of those two years Russell Scott, his devoted wife, his aged father and mother, vainly broadcast through every available method of publicity a plea that Robert surrender and give his brother a chance to escape the rope by taking upon himself the blame for firing the shot that killed young Mauer.

Young Thaw, who was preparing to return to his studies in Winchester School at Atlantic City after spending the holidays with his mother here, broke his silence in the station long enough to say: "This is the third time mother has attempted to kill herself. I administered an antidote as soon as I reached her side. I had done that twice before and I know how."

Drank Lysol.

The "Broadway butterfly," divorced wife of Harry Thaw, was found unconscious in her apartment at 56 East Walton Place after she drank eight ounces of lysol.

Her 17-year-old son, Russell, and a maid were working over her frantically.

She was taken to the Ashland Boulevard hospital where her chances for recovery were said to be exceedingly slim.

Miss Nesbit had been dancing here at the Moulin Rouge, a cabaret.

Miss Nesbit had just completed her engagement at the cabaret and was to leave tomorrow for the east and Florida.

Early inquiries gave no indication of the cause for this latest attempt of the Broadway belle of 20 years ago to end her life. At the hospital, it was said her condition is so critical that it is impossible to question her.

Found by Her Son.

Miss Nesbit was found at 5 o'clock this morning by her son when he and the maid were attracted by groans from her room.

She lay in her night clothing, propped and unable to speak.

Her personal physician, Dr. Brand, was summoned and she was taken at once to the Ashland Boulevard hospital run by Dr. A. Rongetti, who attained some notoriety by his connection with the Billy McClintock case last year.

"Her recovery is doubtful," said Dr. Rongetti to International News Service. "There is no chance that the taking of the poison was accidental. No one could drink eight ounces of lysol accidentally."

Maid's Version.

Miss Accoe, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Gussie Thaw's maid for the last four years, gave the police, the following version of the affair.

"Miss Thaw has been despondent for several days and she has been drinking a great deal. Sunday she went to a party with some friends and came back at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, quite intoxicated and with a broken nose."

"She drank eight bottles of beer last night and then became angry because there was no more."

"Then she went to the bath room and got the bottle of lysol. I didn't think about it being poison until she began to scream."

Divorced Wife Of Harry Thaw Swallows Lysol

Evelyn Nesbit, "The Broadway Butterfly," Lies in a Hospital in a Critical Condition Following an Attempt to Commit Suicide.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 5.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's twenty years' hunt for the pot of golden happiness at the end of the rainbow was brought to a climax early today when she swallowed eight ounces of lysol in a fit of despondency.

In the hospital where she is lying unconscious while doctors and nurses battle for her life, it was said that while her condition is serious, it is not hopeless.

"If she survives the day she will live," was the comment from one of the physicians attending her.

Meanwhile police, after taking her 17 year old son, Russell, best known to the public by his mother's pet name for him of "Pom-Pom," under arrest today for defying their questions declared that the attempt at suicide had followed a drinking party that began with a party on New Year's eve and ended Sunday morning when Miss Nesbit returned to her apartment with a broken nose and other evidences of a fight.

Third Attempt Says Son.

Young Thaw, who was preparing to return to his studies in Winchester School at Atlantic City after spending the holidays with his mother here, broke his silence in the station long enough to say: "This is the third time mother has attempted to kill herself. I administered an antidote as soon as I reached her side. I had done that twice before and I know how."

New Orleans, La., Jan. 5.—Three persons were killed and five injured in a tornado which struck the village of Kraemer, La., late yesterday, according to reports received here today.

The twister demolished the home of Theodore Kraemer, Mrs. Theodore Kraemer and her two children, Norman, 13, and Grace, 9, were killed.

The injured persons are the five smaller children of the Kraemers.

The father, a trapper, was away when the storm hit.

Clad only in her night dress, Mrs. Ludwig Remiszewski of No. 22 Hannatt street fled from her home Monday evening pursued by her husband who had gone on a rampage, and sought shelter with Mrs. Purdy of No. 127 Murray street, who telephoned for the police.

Later in the night, Policeman Camp caught Ludwig and placed him under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct. Ludwig is employed at the lace mills and at the request of interested parties will be examined as to his sanity.

This morning he was arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in police court and remanded to the county jail for two days to give physicians an opportunity to make the mental examination.

The total number which he kept track of were 54,045, and fully 2,000 more parked there during earlier and later hours of days before Caretaker Schuler arrived.

The schedule by months as kept is as follows:

Mr. Schuler will be at the parking grounds days when the merchants have special sales and when there is likelihood of there being many auto visitors in town.

Hopes Evelyn Will Recover

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 5.—When informed of the critical illness of Evelyn Nesbit, his divorced wife, Harry K. Thaw, who is visiting his aged mother here, today said he hopes she will quickly recover.

Thaw, who killed Stanford White in 1906 because of the latter's attentions to the woman who lies at the point of death in a Chicago hospital, gave out the following statement:

"It is unfortunate if the lady is ill. 'Something over a year ago there was an interruption, but since last July she receives ten dollars a day and I believe she earned much more from her theatrical entertainment.'"

"I hope she will quickly recover."

MODERN PRINCESS SHOCKS MAYFLOWERITES

Providence, Jan. 5.—A modern Princess and a modern John Alden sat side by side at the annual dinner of the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

The modern Alden reached for a cigarette and began looking for a match.

"Have you a light, John?" asked the modern Princess.

"Why don't you speak for yourself?" he inquired.

Gunmen Take Lives of Two

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Only a few hours after bullets of unknown assassins had taken the life of Carlo Cardello, Italian grocer, while he was walking to his place of business yesterday, two gunmen, also unknown and uncaught, shot to death Stanley Opian, 29, while he, too, was walking along the street. The latter murder took place in Depew, a suburb of Buffalo.

The dead man is reputed to have been a bootlegger, and police believe the crime was committed by members of a whiskey ring who wished to evade settlement of a deal with the dead man. Last Sunday Opian left his automobile in front of a dance hall at Depew, and on coming out found a bomb had been attached to the starter. Bootleggers were thought to have been responsible for this act.

K. K. K. Is Our Greatest Menace

Because of Degenerate Management, Says A. J. Mann, First Member of the Ku Klux Klan in State of Connecticut.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 5.—Arthur J. Mann, local factory worker, "happened to be the first man in Connecticut to affiliate with the Ku Klux Klan," according to his own statement here today. Mann signed the letter that notified the public of the disbanding of the New Haven Klan. Mann also declared: "I have had an opportunity to see more of it than many others, therefore I know whereof I speak."

Characterizing the Klan as "a slimy serpent that threatens the very life of our nation," Mann declared that "every effort must be made to stamp it out."

"Thousands of Protestant-Americans are blind to its intrigues, and it has become under degenerate management the greatest menace facing the American people today."

Mann is "grieved to be compelled to sign such a letter," he says. His own name is the only one made public here as a member of the Klan.

A New Mystery Baffles Police

Prettiest Girl in Leominster Suddenly Disappears While Police Are Trying to Solve Leblanc Mystery Death.

Leominster, Mass., Jan. 5.—Still trying to solve the mystery death of Miss Lena Leblanc, whose body was found after a long search near the shore of Leominster Lake, police today were confronted with a new mystery—the sudden and unexpected disappearance of Miss Mary Halligan, 15, known as the "prettiest girl in the city."

Miss Halligan has been missing since Sunday night and news of her strange disappearance became known today, following a search for her.

The girl, said to be remarkable for her beauty, left the home of her aunt, Mrs. Alice McDonough to go to the theater.

Several hours later she appeared in the Cleghorn section of the neighborhood of Fitchburg. There she engaged a taxicab to drive her to her aunt's home.

Near the McDonough house, according to the taxi driver who was interviewed by police, the girl alighted saying she would walk the remainder of the way.

Miss Halligan never entered Mr. McDonough's house and was never seen again.

The mystery surrounding the death of Miss Leblanc is still unsolved. Edward Rousseau, 21, held on a technical charge but suspected by police of having knowledge of how Miss Leblanc met her death, protests his innocence. Chief of Police Conlon said an indictment for murder would be asked against the youth on January 15 when the grand jury meets.

HOWARD BARKSDALE DIED AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Police headquarters received word from the authorities of Washington, D. C., Monday evening that Howard Barksdale, a former negro resident of this city, had died suddenly there.

and asking that his wife who resided at 58 West Strand, be notified and asked what disposition she wanted made of the body.

The wife, Mamie Smith, who was Barksdale's common law wife, informed the police that Barksdale was a member of a colored Odd Fellows lodge in Philadelphia and that his parents resided in that city, that she could do nothing and that the authorities should take the matter up with the lodge and Barksdale's parents if they could be located.

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 5.—Tampa's business volume due to development on the Florida West Coast, influx of northern land seekers, and money left by tourists added $26,000,272 to the deposits in Tampa's thirteen banks in the last year. This was an increase of 150 per cent.

Smith to Read Annual Message

Wednesday Before Joint Session of the Senate and Assembly—Republican Leaders Will Discuss Next Week the Governor's Recommendations.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 5.—With every indication pointing to a long session, the 1926 Legislature will convene at 10 o'clock tomorrow. Officers will be elected, Governor Al Smith will read his annual message before a joint session of the senate and assembly and the lawmakers then will recess until next Monday night when they will get down to real business.

Both parties will hold caucuses at the capitol tonight. Assemblyman Joseph A. McGinnies, of Chautauque, will be re-elected by the Republican majority as speaker of the lower house. Senator Bernard Downing, of New York will be picked by the Democratic majority in the senate as floor leader in place of Mayor James J. Walker of New York.

Assemblyman Simon L. Adler, of Rochester, is slated for re-election as floor leader of the Republican force in the assembly, while Assemblyman Maurice Block, of New York, will be re-elected as Democratic leader of the lower house.

Following a conference today of Republican legislative leaders and Governor K. Morris, of Amsterdam, Republican state chairman, it was announced the Republican majority would enter the 1926 session without any set program.

"We had a program last year but it didn't seem to get us anywhere," said Speaker McGinnies. "This year we will meet situations as they arise. We hope we will be able to cooperate with Governor Smith."

Former Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes and State Chairman Morris are expected to confer next week with Republican leaders of the Legislature on the important recommendations which Governor Smith will make in his annual message. At that time, it was said today, the Republican leaders will decide just how much of the governor's program they will support during the coming months.

Speaker McGinnies said he believed the Republicans were more interested in a reduction of the direct state tax than in a cut in the state income tax. One of the first bills to be introduced at the opening session tomorrow will call for a 25 per cent reduction in the income tax. It will be sponsored by Assemblyman Phelps Phelps, Republican of New York, father of last year's tax reduction measure.

Republican leaders expect the program for reorganizing the state department now being worked out by a committee headed by former Secretary of State Hughes, will be submitted to the Legislature about February 1. This program it is hoped, will carry out the constitutional amendment adopted at the last election and will reduce the 187 state bureaus and agencies into twenty main departments.

"The Republicans are hoping they will be able to agree with every recommendation which the Hughes committee will make," said Speaker McGinnies. "The committee is composed of high type men who, I am sure, have the best interest of the state at heart."

Governor Smith would like to see the re-organization plans become effective next July but the Republican leaders, according to Speaker McGinnies, think the time should be set at January, 1927.

"The governor who comes into office on January 1, 1927, whether he is a Republican or Democrat, should have the appointment of the heads of the twenty departments," said Speaker McGinnies.

"The re-organization of the state government along the lines suggested by Governor Smith is going to be the greatest task any Legislature ever faced and we are going to realize it more and more as the session continues," the speaker added.

When the Hughes committee completes its work, it is expected to draft its own measures and submit them to the leaders of both houses.

HUNGRY COAL MINERS LOOT TEN MORE STORES.

Ballfax, N. S. Jan. 5.—Hungry coal miners of New Britain looted ten more stores of all their contents early today. The miners, who have been without work for many weeks, took $200 in cash in one place.

The New Britain authorities, thoroughly alarmed, have sent out a special police reinforcement to get the situation under control. Reports indicated that the miners and their supporters were threatening the stores and that the situation was becoming more and more serious.

Though a number of the stores were looted, the police did not fire a shot.

Operators Will Not Budge an Inch to Miners

Anthracite Operators Approve Course Taken by the Negotiating Committee—Ingalls Says Position Is the Same as in July.

New York, Jan. 5.—With Samuel D. Wattner presiding, the entire anthracite operators' conference committee, comprising 31 members unopposedly assembled in New York city today and unanimously approved the course taken by the operators' negotiating committee of six who have been trying, ineffectually, to reach a peace agreement that would settle the strike of 158,000 hard coal miners.

This meeting of the leading coal operators was fraught with significance. It was held shortly before the negotiating committee, headed by Major W. W. Ingalls were to go into joint conference with representatives of the miners at the Union League Club.

Wattner is considered one of the most influential operators in the anthracite industry. Heretofore he has kept out of negotiations with miners. After the conference of the thirty-one operators, Ingalls made a statement to the press which indicated the operators do not intend to budge an inch to the miners.

"The operators", Ingalls declared with finality, "have not receded one inch from the position taken on July 9 last when they first went into conference with the miners at Atlantic City with a view of making a new contract."

Showdown is imminent. It was reported on good authority that the thirty-one operators did not come here merely to approve the action of the negotiating committee—that, in fact, they planned to make one definite proposal to the miners, and that they would demand that this new offer be either accepted or rejected. It was intimated that a "showdown" is imminent.

There had been no intimation that the thirty-one operators were coming to New York. In last week's negotiations, the operators were represented by the negotiating committee of six, headed by Ingalls.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other union leaders had indicated during the forenoon that they had no new proposals to make today and they were prepared to stand against the operators' insistence upon arbitration.

Ministers Tell of Privation. Lewis and other union leaders held a caucus this morning, following which the miners' leader had "nothing to say."

He received a committee of three ministers, representing the Ministerial Association of Scranton, Pa., who told him of the privation and suffering in the coal region and urged him to do all he could to bring about a speedy settlement of the strike.

"Let us have come," said the Rev. R. P. Kretzler, pastor of the Scranton Episcopal Church and spokesman of the delegation, "to emphasize the human aspect of the strike. We beg that negotiations be not broken off until some sort of a settlement is reached."

Suffering in the coal region is "intense," the Rev. Mr. Kretzler told Lewis. He declared that relief measures are "absolutely at an end," pointing out that the Community Welfare Association had already contributed $22,000 for the relief of the strikers.

Extradition of Big Hutch Certain

Governor Smith is Expected to Grant Application for the Extradition of Hutchins, Alleged Bogus Stock Fraud Promoter.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Governor Al Smith has made up his mind to grant the application made by Governor Richardson of California, for the extradition of Everett A. Hutchins, better known as "Big Hutch," alleged bogus stock fraud promoter. It was reported today at the capitol on good authority.

The governor is expected to announce his decision later in the day, accompanying it with a memorandum giving his reasons for granting California's request.

In 1920 Hutchins was sentenced in Los Angeles to seven and one-half years in San Quentin prison. After serving three and one-half years he was paroled. He has been in New York city since last August.

Governor Richardson revoked Hutchins' parole the latter part of November, claiming it was secured through fraud.

Attorney Joseph Schalleck of New York, counsel for Hutchins, announced he would carry the fight through all the state courts and to the United States Supreme court, if necessary, if Governor Smith grants the extradition.

Lake Bluff, Ill., Jan. 5.—Mrs. Scott Burand, millionaire society woman, today formally announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for state senator.

IN 1917 AND NOW.

Representative Oldfield having issued a statement regretting the

"ridiculously low interest rates granted Italy." It is surmised in Washington that the Democrats may be inclined to make an issue of the Italian debt settlement. They would be wiser, both in their own and the country's interests, to call for a prompt and considerate settlement with France. The Italian debt is or should be a settled question. The French is still to come up for consideration, a new French Ambassador being on his way to this country.

engaged with the duty of seeking a settlement. There has been presented no sufficient reason why we should grant better terms to Italy under a dictator than to republican France, the battlefield of the war, in many ways the greater sufferer, burdened with an enormous debt incurred in the valiant defensive war she waged in repelling the damage wrought

by the German armies on her soil.

With the franc steadily falling, the financial distress of France is even more acute.

Is the difference in our attitude due to the large Italian vote in this country, while there are relatively few

French voters to make laudable treatment of France pleasing to our politicians? Representative Andrews of Massachusetts intimates that this is the explanation in his mention of the resolution he expects to introduce. He also recalls that at the time when the French loans were made the Treasury was authorized by law to establish credits for governments "engaged in war with the enemies of the United States"—the only effective contribution we could make at that time. Of course France gave her note in promise of repayment, but we were not concerned about that in those days of doubt and high resolve, when, as

Senator Cummins and others said, it was really "our war" for which Congress was voting loans. In this connection Congress may well think less about money and hyped notes votes and more about the national spirit of 1917.

PRIMOGENITURE ABOLISHED.

At last primogeniture has been abolished in Great Britain.

Under an act which will go into effect early this year, dealing with the administration of estates whose owners die intestate, elder sons will possess no advantage over younger sons, male children no preference over female, and all children will have equal shares in an estate where the parent leaves no will. Presumably in titled families the old rule will survive through wills, for otherwise the nobility would fall of the material basis for its maintenance in consequence of the division of the inheritance among many.

The law of primogeniture, though of service in the way just indicated, involved great injustice to the younger sons and the daughters, not only in England but in America as well in the earlier times, for the law was originally in force in this country also. It is interesting to learn that the family of Abraham Lincoln suffered from it among others. Because of the law still in force in Kentucky the father of Abraham Lincoln lost a share in several thousand acres of good land, gave up in great poverty, entirely illiterate, never learning either to read or write—which of course clouded the youth and affected the early fortunes of a President of the United States.

If we still had the unjust law of primogeniture, obviously the concentration of wealth in a few hands would be a far greater menace than it now is.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University is quoted as saying that "the same argument was made for slavery seventy-five years ago that is made for prohibition today." Some readers may gasp in astonishment and some others may want to swear, but it is quite true that slavery was then a part of the fundamental law and there were many, like the prohibitionists of today, who declared such law to be sacred and inviolable. That there must be "no tampering with the Constitution."

The Chicago Congress will mark

the assembly of the greatest number of Cardinals and other high ecclesiastics of the Catholic Church ever brought together in the United States, or in the New World for that matter.

The most notable gathering of the hierarchy hitherto held in the United States probably was the Plenary Conference convened in Baltimore forty years ago. The contrast between the earlier gathering and that to be held in the United States in June emphasizes the tremendous growth of Catholic ism in America in the intervening period.

The Baltimore conference was essentially a gathering of the American hierarchy in the days when the United States had but Cardinal—

Mgr. McCloskey, Archbishop of New York. In the intervening two score years dozens of new bishoprics have been created and new metropolitan sees organized.

In addition to the four American

Cardinals of the present day a half dozen Cardinals intend to make the journey from Rome for the Chicago

Conference. There will also participate besides the whole hierarchy of the United States, bishops and archbishops from Canada, Mexico and from Central and South America

European countries also will be represented in addition to the group of Cardinals who will go out from Italy.

The Pope has not yet formally designated the Cardinal who will act as his legate to the Chicago Conference. Vatican opinion still favors

Cardinal Gasparri, the Secretary of State, as the prelate upon whom this honor will fall.

The twenty-seven previous Eucharistic Congresses have been held in the following cities: Lille, France;

Avignon, France; Liege, Belgium;

Freiburg, Germany; Paris, Toulouse,

France; Antwerp, Belgium; Jerusalem; Rheims, France; Paris, Mon-

THE LIONS' DEN

The lions were roaring. Their great voices could be heard far, far away, and the sky was growing very black and full of heavy, dark clouds.

"What can be the trouble with the lions?" the people at the zoo wondered.

There were many visitors at the zoo that day and they all looked to the lions' den.

Still the roaring kept up and it looked as though any minute it might stop.

"These lions," the keeper said, as the roar continued and it began to storm, "would fight each other if I let them out."

"But they are roaring now to warn each other that danger is near."

"Lions hate a storm. They cannot stand bad weather. They are like some people in that way."

"But though they would fight if they were put into the same cage, they always call to each other when a storm is approaching.

"That is the meaning of their great roar now."

"When they are free they always get together when a storm is coming, and through the jungle they call to the missing ones."

"They do the same thing when night is coming on, and it is growing dark, both here and in the jungle."

"They never forget this habit."

"Come to safety, come to safety," roared the lions, but the people thought they were roaring:

"Let us kill, and kill and kill! We feel so angry!"

The people did not understand the lions as well as they might.

At last the storm was over and King Lion was admiring his mane.

He was five years old and so his mane was very long. A lion, you know, is not full-grown until that age.

Mrs. Lion was with her cubs. They were very, very young. In fact, they had just come into the great zoo world.

"I'm so nervous," said Mrs. Lion, "and I feel so wild. Here, you little cubs, you're nearer to me than anything else. I'll just kill you, for I must kill, I simply must."

And she did!

"Roar, ha, ha, roar!" said Miss Lioness.

"I was jealous of those little cubs, but their own mother has killed them."

"Well," said King Lion, "I hate cubs. But I just am kept away from them until they become old and sensible when I like them."

"But for Mrs. Lion to kill her children—dear me, it was quite a wild thing to do."

"Really, she is a wicked lioness."

There was great excitement in the zoo. The keeper was terribly upset.

He was far more upset than Mrs. Lion.

But after a time she became very unhappy, too.

"I felt so sick," she was trying to say, "and so very nervous, that I couldn't help it."

"Next time I have little cubs I won't do such a thing. I never meant to do so dreadful a deed."

For though the lioness is wilder than the lion, it is very, very unusual for her to kill her cubs.

It was only because she became so upset and so nervous and felt so ill at ease in the zoo that she did such a dreadful thing.

She was terribly sad about it but she tried to look ahead to the time when she would have more little cubs and when she would love them as a mother lioness can love her little ones.

Wanted, a Husband

Edward was called in from play to get dressed for a party.

Soon after, two playmates rapped at the door and asked: "Where is Edward?"

They were told he was going to a party.

After thinking it over one little girl said: "Couldn't he come out for a while?"

I said: "What do you want with him?"

"Oh, we'd like to use him for a husband this afternoon."

Caught Unawares

Modeline wore a brand new coat to school and the first day fell into a trap.

Telling her aunt about it when she got home, aunt exclaimed: "Oh, Modeline, with your new coat on!"

Whereupon Modeline indignantly replied: "Well, I didn't have time to take it off."

SUCH GOOD THINGS

A tasty salad is one of the most popular of dishes and we all like something different. Try this:

Raisin and Green Pepper With Lettuce.—Shower one-half cupful of raisins in enough orange juice to moisten well; when soft, add a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Arrange sliced green pepper in rings on crisp lettuce and fill them with the softened raisins; pour over when serving.

Boiled Fish.—Wrap a firm-meated fish in cheesecloth and drop into boiling salted water to cook until the fish flakes from the bones. Drain and serve with:

Hollandaise Sauce.—Wash one-half cupful of butter, divide into three pieces and put one piece into a dish with the yolks of two eggs, and a tablespoonful of lemon juice; work together until smooth, set over hot water, stirring constantly until the mixture is well blended and the butter is melted, then add the second piece of butter and as it thickens the third piece, taking the dish from the hot water occasionally to keep the mixture from curdling. Season with salt and cayenne and serve at once. If the sauce does curdle add a tablespoonful of thick cream or two tablespoonfuls of thick white sauce and heat well with a Dover egg beater. This sauce is very appetizing with parsley on broiled steak.

Hot Egg Sandwich.—Shred a small onion or a slice of two of a large one into an omelet pan with a tablespoonful of butter, cook until the onion is soft but not brown, add an egg and cook until set. Serve on a slice of buttered bread, cover with another slice and press together and eat hot with a cup of coffee.

Hamburger Sandwiches.—Fry small cakes of well-seasoned hamburger steak, place on rounds of buttered bread, top with a slice of onion well seasoned with salt, then another slice of buttered bread, and serve hot.

BLOOMINGTON.

Bloomington Jan. 4.—The Christmas service of the Reformed Church Sunday school was held Wednesday evening, December 23. The church was well filled and all enjoyed the following program: The first scene showed all the children of the primary and junior departments at grandma's on Christmas Eve. All the children rendered their recitations and songs for grandma in a very acceptable manner. The second scene represented grandma falling asleep and having a dream, wherein she sees many angels in beautiful costumes carrying lighted candles circling round and round singing a Christmas carol. Then followed several scenes representing the birth of Christ, with shepherds, angels, wise men, King Herod, Joseph and Mary, all in appropriate costumes, given by the older members of the school. Electric lighting and illuminated stars aided in making these scenes more realistic. All of the characters in the different scenes took their part well.

Mrs. Pauline Collins spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. J. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smedes entertained the following for Christmas: Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Smedes of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smedes and son, Frank, of New York, and Mrs. A. B. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. M. Don, Mr. and Mrs. Donith, Henry Hertz, Mr. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jager, Mr. and Mrs. Leny, Miss Rubenow, Miss Bloomstein, New Year's morning they all left for their homes, agreeing they had been royally entertained.

Gen. Feng Opens Military School

Gives Evidence of Friendship for Soviets, Teaching Russian as Only Foreign Language.

Moscow, Jan. 5.—Feng Yu Hsiang, a running a laundry in Moscow. A sign in Russian and in Chinese characters announces to the foot-booted pedestrians along Bolshaya Dmitrovka that Feng does first-class, cheap, washing and ironing.

It arouses, however, no particular excitement, for the Moscow Feng is quite a different Chinaman from the "Christian general" now battling with his rivals for the hegemony of China. The sign, nevertheless, is also a sign of the times. General Feng could always be sure of a good laundry to run in Moscow should his military adventures one day end badly.

A new evidence of the friendship General Feng bears for his northern neighbors has just been received here in the shape of a report from his headquarters in Kaigan describing the establishment there of a military academy in which the only foreign language taught is Russian.

Students From Shanghai.

The school is largely attended by students who fled from Shanghai after the recent disturbances. General Feng is reported to have decided to increase the school to accommodate 5,000 students. At present it is divided into four departments, one for infantry officers with 300 students, and one each for cavalry, artillery and engineer officers with 100 students in each section.

In the Soviet Union itself, amity with the Chinese is carefully nurtured. The latest measure in that direction has just been announced by the Commissariat of Internal Affairs, which has ratified the statutes of "The Union of Chinese Living in Soviet Russia." The object of the Union is "to raise the cultural level of the Chinese."

Another step in the same direction is the publication by the Communist "Hands Off China Society" of a newspaper in Chinese, the first ever printed in Russia.

Many Students Arrive.

The newspaper will supplement the work of the new Sun Yat Sen university which is exclusively for Chinese students. It will open in Moscow under the rectorship of Karl Radek next spring. A full enrollment is promised.

Already twenty-four young Chinese have arrived in Moscow and until the opening of the new university will study in the University of the Toilers of the East, which accommodates not only Chinese, but also students from all other far and near eastern countries.

At the same time, the Soviet Union has announced the opening of a series of new consulates in Western China. Four have already begun to function. The latest is at Shazasume, administrative center of the Altai district of the Sin Sians province. Kirilov has been appointed general consul.

Statue of Christ Is Peace Offering

London, Jan. 5.—As a symbol of the world's desire for peace, the nine-foot statue of Christ just completed in marble by Yanko Brajovitch, a native of Montenegro, will be offered to the League of Nations for erection in the Balkans.

The huge statue was made in London and now stands in a studio in Notting Hill while its disposition is being arranged.

Brajovitch used no model for the head. He explains that the head represents his ideal and that he could find no man in London or anywhere else whose features corresponded with his conception of the Christ.

Brajovitch was only recently released from prison, having served two years in Belgrade charged with a political offense against the Serbian government. In Italy he was also imprisoned because of alleged Serbian intrigues and was twice expelled from Italian soil although he was on good terms with the king and queen, the latter being the daughter of the former king of Montenegro.

In Brajovitch's figure, the arms of the Christ are outstretched in an appealing attitude, as though, says the artist, "He is asking all mankind to be his friends."

Brajovitch wants the statue to stand in his native country. "I would like the League of Nations to buy it and place the figure on the frontier," he said. "The League, small nations think, does not worry about them. But this is why the figure has been made."

One of the most remarkable things about Brajovitch is the rapidity with which he works in stone. "I do in a day," he says proudly, "what most sculptors take months over."

Brajovitch is not the only sculptor in London now engaged in making representations of the Christ.

MADISON SUPERVISORS PLANTING A FOREST

Albany, Jan. 5.—The board of supervisors of Madison county are planting a county forest around Gorton lake in the township of Brookfield and will make their second planting of 10,000 young white pines during the coming spring.

A year ago, the forestry committee of the board with William L. Norman, county agent, laid out the plan of a county forest on land surrounding the lake that had been returned to the county for non-payment of taxes and make the first planting of 5,000 trees, the actual planting of the trees being done by the Brookfield troop of Boy Scouts under Frank M. Spooner, supervisor of the town of Brookfield, early in April.

The land chosen for the forest surrounds Gorton lake and comprises about 150 acres and the forestry committee of the board of supervisors plans to continue planting from year to year until all of the land has been planted, which will greatly improve the surroundings of the lake, furnish cover for game and game birds and ultimately furnish a supply of lumber and wood.

The village of Carthage which started a municipal forest on its watershed in 1910 with a six-acre plantation now has been planting steadily from year to year ever since and now has watershed forest in the state covering about 650 acres. Blister Rust

Query and Answer

Albany, Jan. 5.—"If blister rust will kill all pine trees as is the impression given throughout the country, why plant pine trees?" This query was received by the Conservation Commission December 29, unsigned.

The Answer.

Blister rust will kill white pines if no effort is made to control it, so will potato bugs ruin the potato crop if permitted to work unchecked, but farmers plant potatoes and raise abundant crops by killing the bugs.

White pine blister rust affects only white pine trees. New York state has demonstrated that white pine trees can be protected from blister rust by removing all currant and gooseberry bushes growing within 900 feet of the white pines.

The average cost to private landowners in this state last year for removing currants and gooseberries was 88 cents an acre. This eradication covers a period of about ten years.

The cost of keeping an acre of potatoes free from disease is from $3 to $6 an acre, and has to be done every year.

There is no reason why white pine blister rust should deter any one from raising white pine any more than potato bugs should deter anyone from raising potatoes.

Salem, Va., Jan. 5.—Inner mission activities throughout the state of Virginia have received much encouragement in the recent successful campaign of the Lutheran Orphan Home of the South to raise $200,000 for new buildings. Approximately $50,000 has already been paid in on these subscriptions. Two years ago the home purchased the property of Elizabeth College of the United Lutheran Church in America which had been discontinued following a disastrous fire. The central unit of the building and four auxiliary units will be used as dormitories. At the recent cornerstone laying, Mayor R. W. Kime, of Salem, secretary of the board of trustees, delivered the principal address.

FIRE DAMAGED MARLBOROUGH HOME OF CHANCEY SUNDAY

The home of Philip Chancey, feed and grain dealer at Marlborough, was badly damaged by fire Sunday afternoon when flames starting under the stairway on the first floor burned through the partitions and up into the rooms on the second floor. The damage is estimated at $4,000. Mr. Chancey was hunting in the Adirondacks and his wife was spending the winter in the south. Mr. Chancey was notified of the fire and returned home late Sunday evening. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Y. M. C. A. Boys' Division Doings

Some of the Activities Which Keep The Boys Busy and Maintain Their Interest — Program For This Week.

During the past week the rooms of the Boys' Division of the Y. M. C. A. have been a scene of continuous enjoyment starting from the day school closed until Saturday afternoon last week. All the games have been ample usage every day, and four tournaments with an average of 15 enrollments in each one, indicate somewhat their popularity. Every class in the gymnasium has been popular, and the daily special status have created a great deal of enthusiasm.

Over 100 boys took the advantage of the New Year's open house and participated in the privileges that the Y. M. C. A. offers to the boys. This was brought to a climax in the morning with an entertainment in the Auditorium Theatre when, after a two-reel motion picture Mr. Hall, the boys' secretary, introduced his friend, Frederick D. Walker of New York city as the entertainer of the morning. Mr. Walker is as clever a musician as has been in Kingston for a long while and kept the boys on the edge of their seats trying to fathom the mysteries of his mysticism.

Prizes Awarded.
Just preceding the introduction of Mr. Walker, Mr. Hall awarded membership prizes to several of the boys. Jack Knives were awarded to Randolph Kieffer, Orlando Sawyer, Woodrow Whitmore, Mason Murtson, Robert Steuding and Robert Moore.

A camera, given to the boys' division by Charles A. Warren, was awarded to Terry Staples for bringing in the most new members during the last fifteen days of December.

In the afternoon games were enjoyed, and in the evening two reels of motion pictures were shown after which the boys were invited down in the gymnasium as guests of the senior department to witness an entertainment put on by the White Revue Company.

Activities This Week.
This week sees the beginning of many of the activities which are popular among the boys. On Monday night, Troop 1, Boy Scouts of America, resumed their regular meetings. This afternoon Pioneer Wigwag held a regular meeting at 4 o'clock. At the same hour Mr. Hall arranged a special meeting for boys 12 to 15, inclusive. At 6 o'clock this evening the first bean supper of 1926 will be held, and judging from the requests which have been coming into the office as to when they will start, they will be very popular this winter. Members are asked to sign up for the supper.

Wednesday evening at 6:15 the H-Y Club will resume their sessions, and following this the regular discussions will take place. The outline for discussions this year has been carefully prepared, and should be interesting. Every year this club has been one of the most popular in the association.

Thursday evening the Rotary boys will resume their regular sessions after the holidays and on Friday night at 7:15 the Boys' Division will hold their regular weekly social. All of this is in addition to the regular gymnasium classes for the boys which are held every day except Friday.

Many New Members.
The popularity of the Boys' Division of the Y. M. C. A. is shown by the constant incoming new members who are introduced by their friends, and the splendid proportion of renewals by the old members themselves.

The annual H. T. O. F. campaign, which has always been held the week prior to regents' examination, is postponed until the first week in February so as not to detract in any way whatever from the regents' work of the boys. It is hoped that people will remember this popular week and will be ready for it when it comes.

TUBBY STREET HAD AN INCENDIARY FIRE TODAY

At 1:50 o'clock this morning the fire department was called to the residence of Mrs. John Leahy, No. 81 Tubby street, where the enclosed back porch was on fire. The fire was confined to the porch. According to the fire and police department it was of incendiary origin.

The popularity of the Boys' Division of the Y. M. C. A. is shown by the constant incoming new members who are introduced by their friends, and the splendid proportion of renewals by the old members themselves.

Regional Plans Up on Friday

Committee on Organization to Meet in Poughkeepsie—Robert J. Canniff to Resign as Chairman—Kingston Represented.

Important steps toward paying the way for constructive action to carry out the purposes of the Central Hudson Regional Association are expected to be taken at a meeting of the committee on organization and plan to be held in the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, on Friday, January 3. At this time the committee will submit its second report on formulating a comprehensive plan for a three year program for regional development in the Hudson valley.

To Name More Committees.

The leaders in the regional planning movement will appoint additional committees as necessary for them may arise to continue the surveys now under way and to put the plan which is devised into operation. It is understood that the committee on organization and plan has made considerable progress since its last meeting and that in the not far distant future the association will be in a position to proceed with the program which it has mapped out.

Chairman Canniff to Resign.

Robert J. Canniff of Poughkeepsie, chairman of the committee, will preside at the meeting. His resignation from the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company and his departure from Poughkeepsie will necessitate his retirement and it is expected that his successor will be chosen at this session.

Representatives from Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Kingston, Beacon and Saugerties are expected to be present.

PROBE OF ALUMINUM COMPANY HELD UP

Washington, Jan. 3.—A senatorial investigation to determine whether the department of justice has shown "undue delay" in instituting a federal prosecution of the Aluminum Company of America for alleged violation of an anti-trust decree, was proposed in the senate this afternoon by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, of Montana.

Walsh introduced a resolution, which would authorize the senate judiciary committee to conduct the proposed investigation, but its immediate consideration was blocked by an objection raised by Senator Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania. Reed also blocked consideration of a second resolution, introduced by Walsh, which would have called on the attorney general to report whether the federal trade commission was justified by law in refusing to turn over to the department of justice all evidence it collected to show the Aluminum Company had violated the anti-trust decree.

The Aluminum Company of America is partly owned by Secretary of the Treasury Andrew J. Mellon.

Lady Astor Finds Many Willing

Westminster, Eng., Jan. 3.—Lady Astor has received a bundle of replies to the offer she made that she "would pay the fare to Russia of any Socialist and his family who would undertake to stay there two years."

She was setting forth the view that anyone prepared to go to Russia and sample the Bolshevik rule ought to be helped at all costs. If anyone thought Russia to be a Paradise, she said, she would see that no obstacle should stand between him and the attainment of his desires.

In response she has had a whole bundle of replies. "One Communist," she says, "tried it on by asking if I could arrange for his passport. I said, 'O, no! That is not the offer.'"

"I am prepared to pay the transportation of any man, and of his wife and children, too, if he will undertake to stay in Russia for two years. He must make enough in that period to bring him back."

"I was prompted to make my offer by the talk at the meeting which took place in one of the most Bolshevik villages in the north of England. Why is it these people say Russia is a Paradise although they prefer actually to go to the two most capitalistic countries in the world—the United States and Canada."

"I stick to my offer. If I can find the right type of man to undertake the test."

WEST PARK

West Park, Jan. 3.—Miss Cora M. Hall and the Misses Hilda and Helen Smith who have inaugurated their season at their summer home until New Year's day, leave for the south this week, going probably as far as North Carolina.

A New Year's Eve party of about 15 was held at the rectory on Thursday, all attending the early morning communion in Ascension Church on New Year's day.

The annual meeting of the Ascension Church branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held at the rectory on Thursday, January 14, beginning at 11 o'clock in the morning. All members will please take notice.

Mrs. Sue Bennett of Poughkeepsie was a New Year's guest at the rectory returning home Sunday afternoon.

William Schickel and Max Gretchen Schickel were Sunday visitors in West Park.

Berlin and Bride At Atlantic City

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 3.—Irving Berlin, internationally famous composer of jazz music and songs, and his bride, who was Miss Ellen Mackay, debutante daughter of Clarence H. Mackay, the multi-millionaire president of the Postal Telegraph Company, are honeymooning in Atlantic City, it was learned today.

The couple slipped out of New York following their marriage in Municipal building there yesterday afternoon, telling no one where they were going.

They are stopping at the Ritz-Carlton hotel. They refused to meet any visitors, to see reporters, or to answer calls, today.

The suite at the hotel was engaged yesterday by Miss Mackay, it was said at the hotel.

They came here by automobile and spent the night at the hotel. Reporters had been waiting for them at the railroad station and did not learn of their presence at the hotel until noon today.

Their names did not appear on the register. Every effort at secrecy was made.

Breakfast was served the couple in the hotel suite. They had not left their room up to an early hour this afternoon.

Execution of General Anzaldo

Mexico City, Jan. 3.—General Crispiana Anzaldo was executed today at Las Cruces Sinaloa, after having been tried on charges of complicity in a plot to overthrow the government.

Other arrests and executions are anticipated.

Deputy Diaz De Leon of the state of Aguascalientes has issued a statement charging the governor of that state and other high officials with complicity in the plot against the government. The government is investigating these charges.

Secretary of War Amaro's drastic orders have apparently completely quelled any plans for a revolt.

The alleged revolt which started at Aguascalientes does not appear to have had any great backing. Less than seventy men were involved in the attack on the Aguascalientes garrison.

USE OF CHAINS OFTEN LEADS TO OVER-CONFIDENCE.

That drivers who place too much confidence in chains and because of them take chances on slippery pavements very often come to grief is one of the important warnings broadcast by the American Automobile Association on the eve of winter weather. Chains, suggests the national motor body, may be all right as an aid in safety but they are certainly not foolproof.

In this connection the research division of the association or attention to the experience of Lee Bellon, Cab Company of Richmond, Virginia, which discarded the use of chains in wet weather and reduced its accidents by 50 per cent. This the company attributed not to the lack of merit in chains, but rather to the fact that without them drivers cease to take chances. Says H. L. Cummings, general manager of the Richmond Cab Company:

"A good careful driver on bright sunny days uses chains on his car on a wet slippery street, and takes chances that he would not take without chains and will put his faith and trust in the chains to save him. On the other hand, the driver that was inclined to be a little reckless would exert a great deal more care than usually, if he had no chains on his car, on wet slippery streets. We therefore decided to try it for a while, and using chains at all and see what the psychological effects would be upon the driver, putting him out entirely on his own resources, and not allowing him to use chains on his car. Our accidents were immediately cut down on what days from 75 to 90 per cent of what they had been in the past."

This plan was put into effect in February, 1934, and from that day to the present time no have used chains on their cars and that the accident record of this year, when we had a wet storm with two inches of sleet and ice upon the streets, was the same as the year before.

In the News of the Day

GENERAL ANZALDO, VON HINDERBURG, DR. KESSELBACH, DR. LUTHER.

President Von Hinderburg, Germany, predicts bright era of peace in New Year's address. J. B. Haldane, noted British bio-chemist, was dismissed from Cambridge University because of scandal. Dr. Wilhelm Kesselbach, German commissioner of Mixed Claims Commission, has returned from trip to France. Luther Burbank, noted naturalist, has developed a new variety of corn bearing eight to fourteen ears to each stalk.

they had been in the past. This plan was put into effect in February, 1934, and from that day to the present time no have used chains on their cars and that the accident record of this year, when we had a wet storm with two inches of sleet and ice upon the streets, was the same as the year before.

WILTRICK HOME COMPANY POSTONES MEETING.

Members of Wiltrick Home Company, No. 1 have postponed a meeting from 8 P. M. to 8:30 P. M. because of remodeling the rooms of the company. The annual meeting will be postponed to a later date. It is hoped to make the annual meeting of 1936 the happiest of the year. The entertainment committee is working hard to make the social function after the business meeting a grand success.

Drafting Stars Of College Grid

Famous Football Figures to Lead Their Popularity as Aid to Baseball Gate Receipts—Several Offered Contracts.

New York, Jan. 3.—Major league baseball seems to have decided it is best of good box office business to catch some of football's popularity on the refund, and, in consequence, we have the present disposition to reach out for many of the big names of the collegiate gridiron.

Ernie Nevera, for example, has caused it to be announced that he has signed with the Cardinals.

Nevera is said to be one of those rarities of baseball, a hitting pitcher. He also is alleged to have a good slow ball and this, too, is unusual in a college pitcher.

He is only one of several of 1925 stars who are said to be headed for the majors. Jackson Keefer, of Brown University, whom many were pleased to regard as the greatest back in the east, is declared to be dallying with the idea of joining the Boston Red Sox. He is supposed to be a hard-hitting outfielder and might easily work up quite a New England following.

Wyckoff, star fullback at Georgia Tech, is another who is declared to have received several major league offers for 1926, while another Tech star of former years, "Red" Barron, is understood to be headed for the Boston Braves via the Charlotte Club of the Sally League. Barron, of course, is going up on his own. He has been out of football too long to have any box office value at this stage of the proceedings.

However, there is no gainsaying the fact that Pouley Hubert, Alabama's star quarterback, will be a big number with the fans in Birmingham next summer. Pouley has signed to catch for this outfit, and, if he is as good as they say he is, he will be as good as they say he is.

Joe Guyon, ex-Carlisle and Georgia Tech backfield star, also was supposed to be coming in the majors next season from Louisville, where he had a big year in 1925. However, "Cap" Neale, of the Colonels, denied the story at the annual baseball meetings in New York some weeks ago.

REPORTS OF TRIANGULAR BASEBALL DEAL.

New York, Jan. 3.—Reports of a big triangular deal, involving the New York Yankees, Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns, were current today in baseball circles.

According to the accepted version, the Yankees will trade Walter Hoyt, right hand pitcher, to the Senators for Tom Zachary, left hander, and Spencer Adams, substitute infielder.

Zachary, Adams and Aaron Ward, for some years regular second basemen of the Yankees, then are to be passed on to the Browns for Marty McManus, star second baseman of the St. Louis Club.

Will Again Seek Track Meet.

New York, Jan. 3.—According to reports in circulation today Philadelphia will seek the 1926 intercollegiate track and field championships, in spite of the fact that this city held the games last year. It has been the custom for the meet to rotate between Philadelphia and Cambridge, Mass., but it said that the former hopes to obtain permission to stage the championships as a part of its sesquicentennial celebration.

Frank DuFlon Wins Tourney

In a recent issue of The Daytona Beach Journal, Daytona, Fla., the following article appears:

Frank DuFlon won first prize in the opening horse show pitching tourney of the season at the Casino Burgoyne courts yesterday. Howard E. Futch was second. C. R. Dickinson, A. J. Manley and A. E. Heerman necessitated a play-off for third place when all three tied for the show position with two games won and three lost each. J. A. Groome finished last.

DuFlon won all five of his matches in easy fashion. Futch took four and dropped one game. DuFlon alone being able to stop him.

The play-off for third position will take place today at 10 a. m. on the Casino reservation.

Frank DuFlon mentioned above is the well known local real estate agent, who is vacationing in the south.

OFFER CARPENTER BOUT WITH JACK DELANEY

New York, Jan. 3.—Georges Carpenter will be offered a bout with Jack Delaney, Bridgeport, Conn., contender for the light heavyweight title, when the French boxer arrives in this country early this month, it was said today. Jesse McMahon, match-maker for Tex Rickard, made the statement and added that if Carpenter accepted terms, the bout would take place in Madison Square Garden some time in February. The winner, he said, would be matched with Paul Berlenbach for the world's championship.

Carpenter's visit will have as its secondary object the laying of plans for the invasion of Paulino, the basque heavyweight.

Schaefer Has Lead of 125.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 3.—Jack Schaefer will go into battle to regain his 182 pounds crown here tonight with a lead of 125 points over the present world's champion, Edouard Horremans, in the second block of their 1500 point match.

Last night "Young Jake" displayed a 62.5 average against 46.8 for the round Belgian, who finished the block with 375 points. The champion, however, pulled himself out of a bad hole once with a run of 245 while Schaefer's best run was 138.

Last Night's Beats.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 3.—Coming as an anti-climax after an unusually good boxing card last night, Johnny Risko, Cleveland, heavyweight hope and young Bob Fitzsimmons, put on an extremely tame exhibition, the winner, according to Referee Matthei, being Risko. The decision, however, was not a popular one.

Johnny Datto, Filipino, scored a technical knockout over Tommy Noble in the sixth round of the semi-final, the referee stopping the fight when it was apparent Noble could not go on.

Tony Stabenau of Buffalo, fighting at 188 pounds gave fans a surprise by scoring a draw with Bud Gorman, weight 139, a highly touted New Yorker.

Helen Wills Is In Good Form

New York, Jan. 3.—What, to the casual eye, seemed to be a taller, and, perhaps, a more robust Helen Wills than the last had previously known, prepared today to take her final workout in America on the eve of her departure for abroad and the Suzanne Lenglen match, for which all the world has waited these several years.

No one seemed prepared to venture whether the additional inch or so meant less speed or more endurance or neither or both.

Miss Wills herself was singularly uncommunicative. "I'm going abroad on a pleasure trip," she said. "If I can win tennis matches, the pleasure will be greater. If I can't, it won't spoil my trip."

On the subject of Suzanne she would not betray more than polite interest by so much as a word, a look or a gesture, although she did say she hoped to meet the French champion not once but several times. She said she thought a series of three matches would better determine the question of supremacy but added with a smile: "I could tell you more about that after the first match."

It is in this opening clash, by the way, that those close to the American, claim she looks forward with the highest hope. It will take place on the hard courts of the Riviera, if Suzanne does not get housewifely knee or something in the meantime, and critics of tennis form are agreed that Helen is at her best on this type of playing surface.

It will be turf at Wimbledon and the heaviest kind, at that. But Helen thinks she will do much better there than she did in 1924.

"I only had a few weeks practice in England the last time," she said. "This year I plan to be in ground almost two months in advance of the championship and if I can't win, I will simply know that it isn't in me."

Her remaining plans were vague, except that she was certain she would return early in July to get ready for the defense of her American title.

The tentative schedule mapped out calls for a brief workout at the Heights Casino, Brooklyn, this afternoon, her first attempt to play on indoor courts, then the business of sailing tomorrow on the De Grasse, which is due to arrive at Havre on January 15, after which she will spend a few days in Paris and proceed to Cannes.

HAMBLETONIAN STAKE AT N. Y. STATE FAIR

Cleveland, O., Jan. 3.—Announcement of racing schedules and possible changes in rules were today the program for the final meeting today of the stewards of the Grand Circuit, in session here.

The most important action thus far was the award of the new $70,000 Hambletonian stake race for three year old trotters, to the New York State fair at Syracuse.

The New York organization outbid Atlanta and Kalamazoo offerings, $8,000, for the event. The purse will be provided by entry fees.

Whether or not a meeting will be held at Milwaukee this year appeared problematical today, the Milwaukee organization having asked for dates during the week of August 30, for which Syracuse had put in a prior bid. Unless Milwaukee will accept other dates it seemed likely that no Grand Circuit meeting would be held in here this year.

Last Night's Beats.

Chester, the leading Tri-County League applicant, will oppose the Kingston Five at the armory court Wednesday night.

This is the first appearance here of the Chester Club, which has proved to be the best team in the league to date. Kane, Dell, Tuthill, Caulfield, Tully and Decker are members of the league leaders. Kane, Dell and Caulfield have appeared at the armory in games this season.

The usual dancing will follow the game and a good crowd is expected to turn out.

ARREST ALLEGED IMPERSONATOR OF TRYON

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 3.—Jack Weller, under investigation in New Haven, Conn., for representing himself as Eddie Tryon, Colgate's star halfback, wired to Dick Harlow, Colgate coach, for funds last week.

Harlow announced today. Weller sent two telegrams Friday, one asking for $50 and another $30, both signed "Eddie Tryon," according to the Maroon coach.

Harlow found that telegraphic appeals for help upon his return from New York today. Tryon and Harlow were together in New York last Friday.

Dobbin Leads Auto in Wrecks

French Automobile Club Ascertains That Horses Caused More Accidents Than Autos—Bicycles Also Fruitful Accident Cause.

Paris, Jan. 3.—Horses cause more street accidents than automobiles. This is the startling statement recently given out by the Automobile Club of the West.

Not content with the general opinion that most people hold regarding the causes of serious street accidents, the members of this Automobile Club of the west part of France took upon their shoulders the publication of figures in their region. During the months of July and September thirty-nine mortal accidents were attributed to horses, and only twenty-five to automobiles.

During this same period, accidents caused by horses numbered in all 423 with 404 injured. Automobile accidents numbered 100 less and the injured were 292.

Other interesting data shows that the old-fashioned bicycle which is very popular on this side of the water, plays an important part in sending people to the doctor. Accidents caused by the two-wheeled vehicle during these two months counted 277 with 271 injured and ten dead.

Counting 100,000,000 kilometers traversed by the horse and automobile in one year, accidents by the former number twice as many as those by automobiles, with a proportionate number of dead and injured.

These figures, according to Pierre Dindon in "La Lanterne," are unreliable, inasmuch as the horse is an animal which masters man and the auto is a machine which must obey him. Admitting this distinction, there is bound to be an unfavorable percentage of automobile accidents. The comparison is also inaccurate when using a speed rate of 100 kilometers an hour when the large majority of autos reach only twenty-eight. However, the statistics of the club show that all kinds of locomotion cause accidents and the French chauffeur is not the only one to blame.
